

Socrates' Garden

Retreat in an organic orchard

Tucked away in a terraced orchard with over 200 fruit trees, this restored former shepherd's house is the perfect hideaway for couples seeking peace, nature, and authenticity. Located between the villages of Kourounochori and Míli, it's ideal for a couple (and possibly one child).

View on map

Private and mindful rental only

This house is not listed on Airbnb or any tourism platform. It is only offered to people connected directly or indirectly to my personal network — guests who value respect for the space, for the land, and for a form of tourism that is conscious and sustainable.

House details

- Indoor space: 48 m²
- Terrace: 40 m² overlooking the orchard
- Sleeps: 2 adults + 1 child or 1 adult (extra bed in the living room)

Rooms:

- 1 bedroom
- 1 open-plan kitchen & living room
- 1 bathroom with shower (in the bedroom)

Amenities

- Oven
- Two gas burners
- Washing machine
- Fan + air cooler
- Hot water
- Bed linen and towels provided
- Parking (car recommended)
- No Wi-Fi
- No air conditioning

NB:

The “pool” seen in photos is actually the orchard's irrigation reservoir (11m x 3m), filled once a week via a traditional canal system.

Once every eight days, someone (my father or myself) will briefly be on-site between 6:00 pm and 7:30 pm to operate the water intake and fill the reservoir via the canal. This short visit ensures proper irrigation and only involves access to the outer area of the property.

